REPOSTED

Temporary position anticipated to extend until June 30, 2026, and is subject to the availability of work

An exciting opportunity exists for a registered physiotherapist to work in the inpatient programs across Parkwood Institute Main. Parkwood Institute Main inpatient programs provide medical management, slow stream and high intensity rehabilitation, and complex continuing care to adults of all ages following an age-related decline in health/function, a major medical event, accident or illness.

The primary assignment of this role will include short-term Complex Care, Geriatric Rehab, and Musculoskeletal Rehab. The short-term Medically Complex Care program supports individuals who require specialized slow stream rehabilitation after a medical event or illness with the goal to optimize function, independence and quality of life for a safe transition to the next level of rehabilitative care or discharge to a community setting.

Geriatric Rehab serves older adults with age-related medical, functional and cognitive decline and prioritizes optimization of independence and quality of life.

Musculoskeletal Rehab provides care to adults of all ages, with a focus on restoring function, improving quality of life and reducing pain.

Our interdisciplinary teams provide holistic and collaborative care.

As a member of the Parkwood Institute Main Integrated Allied Coverage team, you will demonstrate expertise in providing physiotherapy care and services, including assessment, treatment, discharge planning and community liaison for adults of all ages with a variety of complex medical, physical, functional and cognitive conditions.
